

11 Logging out of Gmail

Signing out is especially important if you're using a shared computer (for example, at a library or office) because it prevents other people from viewing your emails.

To log off:

- On the top right corner of the email window, click the circle with with your initial in it, then click the sign out button on the bottom of the drop down menu.

