Manitoba

The Snapshot Assessment is a vital tool designed to evaluate and identify a participant's essential skills and their applicability in the workplace.

This assessment aims to highlight the participant's potential value to their future employment opportunities. It focuses on the nine essential skills and personal management basics crucial for successful workplace performance.

The assessment results are provided in a report to both participants and referrers.

Post-assessment, a debrief session is conducted between the mentor and participant to help them understand their results and how they relate to their workplace goals.

The workshop can be delivered either online or in-person.

Features of the workshop include an Orientation Session, Assessments, and a Debrief Session.

This assessment is most beneficial for individuals who have identified a job goal and are preparing for training, demonstrate essential skill readiness for occupational training, and have a recent and sustained work history.
